MANAGEMENT TEAM'S MESSAGE FOR MABUG 2019

“Good morning and welcome to MABUG 2019!

For the first time in many years, Aaron will not be on hand in person for the opening session of the Annual Users Conference. A family wedding has delayed his arrival in Sacramento but he will be happily joining us later in the afternoon.

Aaron and the Senior Management Team are excited about your participation in the Conference this year. We have many updates for you....about MAVES...about new features of ViewPoint Logistics™. We also want to hear about what's new with each of you and the organizations you represent. Please join Aaron and the MAVES Team for 3 days of sharing how we as partners join together to address the opportunities in the Supply Chain of today and tomorrow.

Again, Welcome!”

WALTER'S MESSAGE FOR MABUG 2019

“I am hoping this year’s conference is your best ever. What could go wrong at a conference in beautiful Sacramento? Well, ask us on Wednesday. We have prepared for every possible glitch, except of course those which we in the software industry all know are ‘just not possible’.

Thank you for your continued participation this year, and for your all-important feedback on our development efforts. We depend on you for guidance to better serve the growing requirements of your organization and your clients. We have expanded our technical skills in the past year, you will see some results in Sacramento, and importantly we have begun some exciting forward-looking work on Artificial Intelligence as it applies to logistics.

I hope to personally see you at our next conference to participate show you our progress on future-proofing our offerings.”
